

LINCOLN NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Another Important Industry Secured For the Capital City.

THE CITY SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Reports From the Various State Institutions—Emerald Citizens Want a Depot—Captain Hill's Successor.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE, 1029 P STREET, LINCOLN, AUGUST 7.

A new industry will be inaugurated in Lincoln on the 1st of September that promises to be a big thing for the city. Messrs. Stout & Buckstaff have associated themselves with a few outside capitalists and are putting in a vitrified brick plant at the corner of L and Sixth street, with forty of the latest drying tunnels and seven kilns, that will employ 100 men and prepare 100,000 bricks for the market every day.

The petition of J. Shaw vs. the city of Lincoln was filed in the district court of Lancaster county this morning. The plaintiff for cause of action alleges that he sustained permanent injuries from a fall she received while walking along O street, between Tenth and Eleventh, on the 27th day of November, 1887, by the negligence or carelessness of her part, and because of the unsafe and dangerous condition of the walks on the said O street, on the principal business streets of the city, and under the control and management of the said city.

The citizens of Emerald are indignant. Their part Mr. J. M. Castor complains as follows: EMERALD, Neb., August 1, 1888.—To the Honorable the Board of Transportation in Nebraska.—Dear Sirs: I ask your attention to the fact that the B. & M. railroad company has promised from time to time to erect a comfortable depot at our station, of which we stand in great need, and as the company is likely to stand off another year or more we feel that it is our duty to appeal to our only resource, to call the attention of your honorable board to this matter, hoping that you may help us out and cause the company to remember a few of their promises.

At present we have to put up with an 8x10 hand-car house and no accommodations for passengers, or freight or express traffic, of which I will send you a statement of about what cash receipts have been received during the past year, ending July 31, 1888. Amount of ticket sales about $200; freight, not cash, collected, $20; between eighty and one hundred cars loaded with grain shipped out and charges paid at other stations, besides a lot of less than car loads of freight shipped out, with charges collected elsewhere. Please give this a recognition at your earliest convenience and place it in form of petition and return it to the undersigned for signatures, and oblige many citizens of Middle Creek precinct, in Lancaster county, Nebraska. J. W. CASTOR.

CAN NOT BE NATURALIZED. There seems to be doubt in the minds of some Nebraska citizens as to whether the Chinese can or cannot become naturalized American citizens. Messrs. Kidd & Porter, of Omaha, write asking the attorney general for his opinion on the law governing the question, to which, in reply, he says: "The naturalization laws of our country include only aliens (being free white persons) of African nativity, and persons of African descent. There is no authority that includes the Mongolian as a white person, and in my opinion the Chinese cannot become a naturalized American citizen."

DOCKETED FOR THE SUPREME COURT. The following cases were filed in the supreme court this morning: Charles W. Hamilton vs. City of Omaha and Truman Buck, treasurer of said city, appeal from Douglas county.

Kansas Manufacturing company vs Jacob Wagner, error from Platte county. James, John and Patrick Mulloy vs Frank Kyle, Robert H. Graham and J. W. Boges, et al., appeal from Lancaster county.

CAPTAIN HILL'S SUCCESSOR. It is not officially stated, but it is known to be a fact, that the governor has appointed his son, John M. Thayer, Jr., to succeed Captain J. E. Hill as his private secretary. It is not known just when Mr. Thayer will commence the duties of his position, but doubtless on or before the 1st day of September.

HEATHEN MISSIONARIES.

What Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs Say About Indian Practices.

Rev. S. P. Jacobs and his wife, of the South India conference, who have just arrived in Omaha, have been delighting people with descriptions of life in that far away land. They have been eight years among the heathen, laboring in Calcutta, Bombay, in several inland cities and at Hyderabad.

In the latter city, within the walled portion never before entered for christian work, they founded a school for Brahmin boys. Mrs. Jacobs is a successful worker among the women of high caste Hindus and of Mohammedans. Her graphic descriptions of domestic life and customs are highly instructive and entertaining.

The following points of Hindu religion are of special interest: In the construction of society the people are identified in three classes: 1. The Brahmin, who represents deity.

2. The professional classes, such as lawyers, merchants, doctors and officials. 3. The producers, which class includes the millions of poverty-stricken toilers who make a bare subsistence and pay the taxes of the realm, from which burden the wealthy are exempt. The women perform the heaviest manual labor, while men usually engage in lighter employments, such as military and embroidery.

For a Brahmin to become a christian involves the most serious opposition and persecution. By this step he forfeits all his wealth, friends, relatives and social position. His apostasy arouses the hostility of the gods.

His ancestors are thereby dragged down from heaven to hell. The hopes of his posterity are also blasted by his acceptance of Jesus. His life is sought by his nearest kin, and though he lives he is counted as dead. Surtis, the burning of the living widow on the funeral pile of her dead husband, is an inhuman custom prohibited by the British government.

Its observance is to the Hindu faith a most grievous calamity. By this immolation the widow is supposed to share the bliss of her husband's heaven, and secures the salvation of forty-two generations on his side and forty-two generations on the side of her husband. By her non-compliance these eighty-two generations are lost.

That christianity is to ultimately triumph the lecture clearly demonstrates. An Absolute Cure. THE ORIGINAL ABETINE OINTMENT is only put up in large two ounce tin boxes, and is used in the following manner: Rub on the affected parts, for old sores, ulcers, wounds, chapped hands, and all skin eruptions. Will positively cure all kinds of piles. Ask for the ORIGINAL ABETINE OINTMENT, Sold by Goodman Drug Co., at 25 cents per box—by mail 30 cents.

A GOOD CATCH.
